MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION AND CATEGORIES

The Canadian Neuromodulation Society (CNS) is entering its fifth year. The CNS is now a national chapter member of the International Neuromodulation Society (INS). Eligible members are those healthcare professionals involved or interested in the practice or research of neuromodulation. The mission of CNS is to pursue excellence in the application of neuromodulation therapy through education, training, dissemination and support of research and encouragement of best practices, as well as professional development and leadership in health policies on chronic pain management and other neurological disorders.

Being an active member, you will have voting privileges at the Annual General meeting for major decisions as per CNS Bylaws. You will also receive:

- * Reduced conference rates to attend the annual meeting of Canadian Neuromodulation Society.
- * Newsletters updating Canadian Neuromodulation Society activities.
- * Access to the website.
- * Be a member of INS and enjoy a reduction in INS annual conference fees, copy and on-line subscription of the Neuromodulation journal (for MD member only; for non-MD member, you will receive only on-line subscription of the journal), INS Newsletter and access to the INS website.

We look forward to welcoming you as a member!
