MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION AND CATEGORIES

The Canadian Neuromodulation Society (CNS) is entering its sixth year. The CNS is a national chapter member of the International Neuromodulation Society (INS). Eligible members are those who are involved or interested in the practice or research of neuromodulation. The mission of the CNS is to pursue excellence in the application of neuromodulation therapy through education, training, dissemination and support of research and encouragement of best practices, as well as professional development and leadership in health policies.

Being an active member, you will have voting privileges at the Annual General meeting for major decisions as per CNS Bylaws. You will also receive:

- Reduced conference rates to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Neuromodulation Society.
- Membership in the INS and enjoy a reduction in INS annual conference fees, copy or online subscription of the Neuromodulation journal (for MD members only; non-MD members will receive the on-line subscription of the journal), INS Newsletter and access to the INS website.
